Lake Eustis Institute

Enlighten your view of the world...

All classes meet in either the Institute's conference room or class room. Both are located at 135 N. Grove St., Eustis. A large lighted parking lot is behind the building. For Information, Registration and Reservations, please go to www.lakeeustisinstitute.org, select Classes, Events or Membership. Or call the office: 352.357.3995.

Sign-up Today for Pet Peeves Free to Members

What irks you? Shrink-wrap packaging, loud commercials, hotels with NO personal care amenities, people who drink directly out of milk and juice containers, drivers who don't know the difference between yield and merge, people who know when you eat dinner and still call at dinner time, guests who cancel at the last minute, parents who do not parent unruly children, unleashed dogs, politicians' inane slogans like "lets get to work", software that takes forever to load, people who say "between you and I", confusing websites, people who try to enter the door that says "TUO"...the list is endless.

Call 352.357.3995 to reserve your place on Tuesday, June 8th at 9 AM for the first discussion of Pet Peeves. The topic will be Product Packaging. What bothers you and why does it?

Sunset Celebration Wednesday, May 12th, 5-7

Join the Friends of the Institute in their new den (behind the administrative offices) and celebrate the setting sun. Honors bar.

Greek Has Three Words for Love – English Has One Free to Members

The strongest emotion a human can feel is love. In English one word means different things in different situations. Greek has three words closer to specific meanings; agape, philia, and eros. Agape is religious love both between man and God and man and man. Philia is friendship, and eros is erotic or romantic love.

What about love of things or ideals? Descartes describes love of things and ideals as passions for something that gives us pleasure. These passions do not harbor any goodwill for the object, so they cannot accurately be called love.

Interested in pursuing the meaning of love? Reserve your place now for the first Love seminar on June 23rd at 2 PM. Call the Institute at 352.357.3995.

Thursday May 27th at Noon is Last Book Club Meeting until September Free to members

James Ellroy's The Black Dahlia is set in 1940's Hollywood. There is irony in the beginning because this is a noir novel about the place that produces film noirs. The characters, dialogue, and settings are pitch perfect. There is no wincing at "not quite right" writing as the reader rides through this fast-paced plot.

The next Book Club meeting will be Thursday, September 23rd, noon. The book is The Secret Life of Bees by Sue Monk Kidd.
